Dr Greg Goodman,
dermatologist

A practising dermatologist for more than two decades, professor Dr Goodman can fill you in on everything from acne to anti-ageing. Here are his top beauty products.

1 Neutrogena Ultra Sheer Body Mist SPF50+, $14.99. "As a runner, this is my sunscreen of choice as it is a light spray that is oil free and is high in SPF. It's also water resistant, so doesn't run into my eyes."

2 Swisse Defence Antioxidant Face Moisturiser, $9.99. "Enriched with antioxidant rich raspberry seed extract, lycopene and resveratrol, this helps improve your skin's texture and defend sun and environmental damage."

3 Blistex Ultra Lip Balm SPF 30+, $3.95. "No-one wants to have discoloured, scaly lips. This balm with sun protection is a must-have for your bag."

4 Antipodes Grace Gentle Cream Cleanser, $39.99.

"Great for clearing impurities and make-up, this cleanser is ideal for those with sensitive skin. Its has anti-inflammatory antioxidants that are naturally extracted from the pinot noir grapes from the Marlborough vineyards in New Zealand."

5 Neutrogena Norwegian Formula Hand Cream, $7.99.

"This favourite has nourishing ingredients which are perfect for dry hands. It's one of the few creams that won't leave your palms feeling greasy."

6 Aveeno Positively Radiant Intensive Night Cream, $19.99.

"Dry, sensitive or eczema-prone skin needs a gentle but rich moisturiser. Use products containing anti-inflammatory qualities like this night cream, containing soy, green and white tea, calming chamomile and the vitamin-B family."

Max May,
make-up artist

When he's not busy creating lust-worthy looks on some recognisable faces like Lara Bingle, Rose Byrne and Abbie Cornish, make-up guru Max May is running his own blog maxmade.com.au. And while Max started his career as a hairstylist, it wasn't long before his love of painting and art lured him towards a career in make-up. This is how $100 added to his kit.

1 Benefit They're Real! Push-Up Liner, $35. "A lightweight formula that's so easy to use. I also love the They're Real! Mascara. If I were a mascara and a liner, I'd be this pair."

2 Natio Define Brow Pencil in Light Brown, $13.95. "No matter what your brow colour is, this pencil fills and defines brows while still maintaining a subtle finish with its soft caramel-brown colouring."

3 Luma Bronzing Powder, $24.95. "This is one of the most versatile coloured bronzers I've come across in a long time. With a slight metallic sheen to make blending effortless, skin looks like it's glowing from within. Top tip: It works beautifully as an eyeshadow, too."

4 Sportsgirl Pout About It! Lipstick in Almost Famous, $9.95. "This long-lasting rich colour can be applied with a brush for an intense colour or dabbed on using your fingers for more of a stain-like finish. It's the best value for money."

5 Maybelline Fit Me Concealer in Sand, $14.95. "This creamy highlighting concealer will brighten even the darkest of circles. Blend with an eye cream for a sheer coverage or your regular moisturiser to highlight the face."
